School of Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences

Admission Open 2023-24

Humanities, Social Sciences & Fine-Arts is one of the major academic disciplines. The field of study teaches students how English, Hindi, Sociology, Public Administration, History, Geography, Economics, Psychology, Philosophy, Gender Studies, Media and Journalism and Political Science have shaped the modern world. In general, Humanities covers art, music and literature; whereas, on the other hand Social Sciences focuses on anthropology, archaeology and politics. That is why, even though, the two streams are different but are often studied together as both complement each other.

Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences is traditionally not considered a great career builder. This is owing to the general misconception that only the students with weak academic background opt for this stream. However, this is far from the truth as there are number of career opportunities available for Humanities & Social Sciences students, right after graduation. The university runs all major employment-oriented courses under the umbrella of the school of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. A glance to the same is mentioned below:
